JERSEY TAXPAYERS

Jersey Taxpayers whose gift exceeds £100 may assist the Institute further by completing a certificate of a lump sum payment, enabling the Institute of Law to reclaim the Jersey tax applicable to the gift. For example, a donation accompanied by a certificate would allow the Institute to reclaim a further 25% from the States of Jersey.

For further information on donations please contact the Institute of Law on: manager@lawinstitute.ac.je

THE INSTITUTE OF LAW

The Institute of Law was inspired and founded by Senator Sir Philip Bailhache. Established in Jersey in 2008 as a non-profit making body, its aims and objectives can be summarised as:

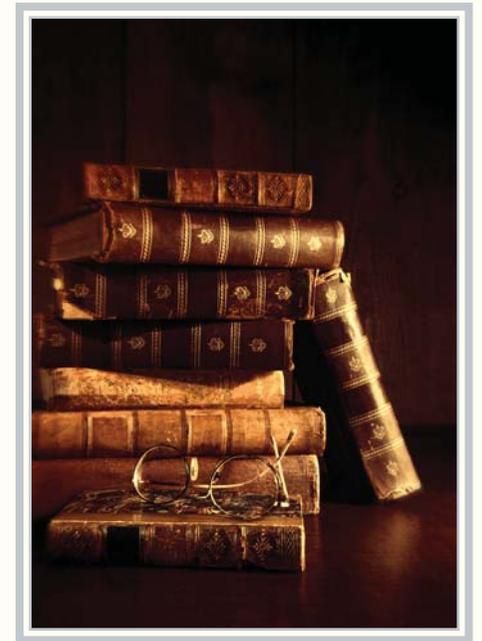

- The provision of education and training for students wishing to qualify as Advocates or Solicitors in the Channel Islands.
- Making the law more accessible and better understood by the general public.
- The promotion of the Channel Islands as centres of legal excellence and the enhancement of their reputation.
- The study and development of Channel Islands' law.
- The study and practice of law as an academic discipline as a foundation for many activities useful for society in general.
- Home to Jersey's Law Library.

THE INSTITUTE OF LAW

Adopt a Book and help conserve
Jersey's legal history

CARING FOR JERSEY'S LEGAL HERITAGE

The Institute of Law houses a special collection of books of historical significance to Jersey's unique legal system. Many of these precious tomes are old, extremely fragile and in need of specialist attention to preserve them for future generations.

Through the Adopt a Book scheme you can make a personal donation to help restore, conserve and maintain this important collection.

The original books in the library are small works of art in themselves some being over 400 years old, with vellum covers and written in French by commentators including Pothier, Le Geyt, Poingdestre, Basnage, Godefroy and Pesnelle.

CONSERVATION

The Institute of Law has links with local woman Courtney McLinton who has trained in conservation and book binding at the Centre de Formation de Restauration du Patrimoine Ecrit, in Châteauneuf-sur-Loire, near Orléans. Students from around the world train at the Centre to learn how to conserve materials ranging from medieval texts, maps and papers, through the ages to more modern books and documents. Having completed her training Courtney is now setting up her workshop in Jersey and the Institute of Law will continue to support this talented young woman in developing her skills.

Courtney can be contacted on: clmbookrestoration@gmail.com

YOUR SUPPORT

GIFT

For the historian, legal professional or bibliophile, or indeed the person who has everything, the beneficiary of your gift will have the opportunity to be recognised with a personal bookplate dedication in your chosen book and to be a part of preserving Jersey's history.

IN REMEMBRANCE

A donation can be made as a lasting tribute to a colleague, friend or loved one.

IN RETURN

In recognition of your generous support you will have your name inscribed on a bookplate in the book you are helping to preserve. You will also have the opportunity to view your book when it has been restored.

You will be presented with an information pack on the book you have paid to be restored including before and after photos of the restoration, a short history of the book and author, and a certificate marking your contribution.
